The Observer

How many of our youths take time to devote the greater part of their time to athletics and sports until they become fine healthy animals as far as their bodies are concerned, while at the same time perhaps, their minds are just vacant lots, where rank weeds are taking root and flourishing. We should develop the body but not more so than the mind, and reading is to the mind what exercise is to the body, as by one health is preserved and invigorated, by the other, virtue (which is the beauty of the mind) is kept alive and cherished.

It is not wise to cultivate a taste exclusively for fiction and romance, although they have their place. If you indulge in just the lemon pie and angel cake of literature you'll grow mentally sick. But see to it that your reading contains a good-sized loaf of the stuff of life—the solid reading. For life isn't all romance as some young people are apt to think, but its the practical, hustling, common duties in everyday life that we have to face.
Consequently we need to read the things which will give us mental and moral backbone. Read good books, or there are thousands of books with such lowering tendencies that to read them means pollution. Visit our prisons and reformatories today and you will find many lives there which were first led astray by foul literature.
While again books have awakened in us noble thoughts, high ideals, and spirit for the low, the coarse and the ghastly.

Read, history, travel, biographies of men and women who have done things, or there is something inspiring in the noble lives and standards of others.
Read books of travel for it is a cheap way of visiting places and a good education. Read poetry for it gives a newness to our nature which prose cannot give. Someone has said "take away poetry and you take away the better of the oratory, the heroism of the warrior, the ardor of the philosopher, and the enthusiasm of the artist."
Take away poetry and you take away that which is great and ennobling in human nature. To appreciate insincerity of poetry contrast what is with what might have been. God might have made the earth perfectly level, vegetation colorless, and the sky a canopy of murky vapors, but instead of that He has diversified the landscape with sheltered valleys and hills,
He has made every plant to glow with living colors and by the agency of the sun the vapory masses of the air have been turned into draperies of silver and gold. Truly we must not forget the fact that God moves and works in all we see.

Last, but not least, study the Bible, the greatest book in the world—because of its authorship, its durability and its influence. This volume is a library in itself, containing history, genealogy, law, ethics, prophecy, poetry, economy, and the perfect rules for the conduct of personal and social life.

Masquerade

Shimp's farewell dance, given in the High Hill Hall in the form of a Masquerade, was very successful.
The crowd though not over large was up to the normal and some very fine costumes were in evidence. The Ten Dollar prize to the best dressed couple, was awarded to J. F. Anstett, who represented a Prince of Normandy and to Miss Gertrude Dowling in the costume of a Princess of Saxony. Following supper an announcement was made to the effect that a social dance will be given in the same hall by the High Hill Social Club on the Friday following. Everybody cordially invited to attend.

J. A. Lindsay who has been under

The Secret Marriage

By Alfred Wilson Barrett

Ward, Lock & Co., Limited
London, Melbourne & Toronto

Yes, you told me, said Easton, keeping cool with an effort. I didn't believe you, though, in spite of that. Rivington burst into a laugh. Well, a man should know who his wife is, I suppose, he said. But really I don't know why I should dispute the matter with you. I have told you; I have even gone to the trouble of showing you a copy of my marriage certificate. If that doesn't satisfy you, you can go to the devil for all I care.

I don't believe you, and I don't believe your lying certificate, said Easton, fast losing his temper, and I insist on seeing Miss Brooke. I grant you this much, that if she confirms your statement, I will leave this place at once and go away.

Devilish condescending of you, returned Rivington, but as it happens, you can't see her, because she has gone away.

Gone away! gasped Easton, his face paling.

Rivington grinned. Yes, she had had a smash up, as you know, and her head injured. She wasn't getting any better, and she's gone to a nursing home. Anything else you'd like to know? I'm in a hurry, and he made as if to go.

Easton, with a sinking heart looked at the black outlines of the house looming up behind Rivington. Not a sound nor a sign came from it, and he felt instinctively that the man had been leaving it empty when he arrived and that now at least he was speaking the truth.

What have you done with her? Where has she gone? he said sternly. I insist on knowing.

Insist, said Rivington, turning his back. I'm going. As he spoke, the throbbing of a motor was heard in the road outside, and in another minute a big car swung into the drive and pulled up by their side with a jerk.

Rivington was a very strong man, Easton a very active and athletic one. Both had been losing their tempers for some minutes and for a time they fought blindly and without result. But Easton was in the better training for his life had been a harder one than Rivington's, and in a prolonged struggle training must tell. He was already wearing the other down when, with an exclamation, the astonished chauffeur recovered from his amazement at seeing his master and a stranger struggling in the darkness.

He jumped down from the car, groped under the seat, and seizing a large wrench, joined in the fight.

Shall I hit him, sir? he cried dancing wildly round.

Curse him! Yes, gasped Rivington, half choked and gasping.

And before Easton could take any measures to guard himself, the wrench descended on his head, once, and then again, and he rolled over on his back, his feet drumming on the ground.

Faintly he seemed to hear the car back, turn and whirl off, and then he lost consciousness.

When he came to himself again, darkness was still around him, and he could feel that his head had bled freely, but staggering to his feet he realised that he could walk all right and that he was not so very badly damaged.

Well, considering that man didn't know the rights and wrongs of the case and only saw his master getting the worst of it, I think he let me off pretty lightly, he said. Mr. Rivington's a pretty fair scoundrel, though and he's got away. Violet, what has he done with her?

He glanced in the direction of the house, only a few steps away from him and pulling himself together, went towards it.

I'll have a look round to make sure, he thought.

It was evident the house was empty, and the doors and windows were locked and barred; but Easton was inclined to use little ceremony after the treatment he had undergone, and he soon succeeded in forcing open one of the long casements, regardless of the noise he made, and gaining an entrance to the house.

The place was empty, as he had conjectured, and it was evident that it was intended to remain so, for covers had been placed on the furniture, and generally the room wore a dismantled and deserted appearance.

Not a sign did he anywhere find of Violet and her presence, though on a card table in the hall he came upon a card, which he picked up and put carefully in his pocket. It bore the name of Dr. Barlett, Harley Street, and Easton suspected it had been left by the doctor Nell he had seen on his former visit.

Nell! he thought, if I can only find Nell quickly.

But he could hardly go out into the world in his dishevelled and blood-stained condition, and he spent some minutes in washing himself, and attending as best he could to the wound

SCOTT, HILL & CO.,

22 Canada Life Building, Winnipeg, Man.

In his head, before he left the house, and made his way down the drive again.

There was still a light in the lodge, he noticed, as he passed, and knocking at the door of the little cottage, he asked the woman who opened to him if she could tell him anything of her master's movements.

The woman threw up her hands. Lor, sir, what a pity, and you've just missed him, she said; he was off not an hour ago in the big car. No, sir, I don't know where he's gone to.

He's here one day and gone the next. But he don't be coming back here just yet, for all the servants have gone to London, and the house is shut up, as I daresay you see for yourself.

The young lady who was hurt, sir? Oh, yes, she went with the nurse this morning, I'm told, but I didn't see her go. Poor thing! I hear she was bad, and she's gone where there's more conveniences than here. No, I didn't hear where it was, no. Thank you kindly, sir.

There was nothing more to be got from the old woman, who it was evident knew no more, and Easton turned wearily towards home. He could do nothing further that night, he felt, and he could only hope that Nell would come quickly and that after a rest the morning would bring fresh light to him where now all looked so dark and hopeless.

CHAPTER XVI

Easton woke in the morning to find Nell leaning over him. The Major's head was aching badly, and for a moment, he hardly knew where he was or what had happened to him.

Where is she? Where is Violet? asked Nell eagerly, as the consciousness awoke in Easton's eyes.

The Major sighed. Gone. He sent her away yesterday morning.

Gone! But what is the matter with your head? asked Nell.

He listened, frowning, while Easton told of his visit to Rivington's house and his adventures there.

By heavens! What a scoundrel the man is, he said. But we will win yet. Are you fit to get up?

Yes, rather. I will get on with my dressing straight away. What have you heard? asked the Major, anxiously.

Not very much. I am not sure, at least, I fear there is only one person who can enlighten us fully, replied Nell.

Violet? asked Easton.

Yes, and Fate has helped Rivington there, but we will get her out of his power. He won't murder her; he will know he could not escape us. He will keep her if he can, however, and try to frighten her into saying anything he wants.

Easton ground his teeth. Come, he said. I am ready. Let us start. Surely together we can find her.

We can, and we will, said Nell; his quick, black eyes flashing. I want to see her safe home again, and I want—I want Mr. Rivington's finger prints.

It soon became evident that Rivington had taken his precautions, and that it would not be an easy thing to get upon his track. The lodge-keeper, whom they first of all returned, had no more to tell them than she had told Easton the night before, and the villagers knew nothing more than that Rivington's two cars, one closed and shuttered, the other containing himself and his chauffeur, had passed through the village and taken the London road at different times on the previous day. But the London Road was a wide order; it was used by many cars and led to many places it soon became apparent.

And here Nell showed to advantage. He was indefatigable and undaunted by difficulties and failures; wheeling information out of stupid villagers or unwilling police-traps, bribing Union scouts and followers here and there traces and signs which would have escaped even Easton's quick and eager eyes. He had brought a taximeter cab with him, fortunately from town, and they were thus able to make up a considerable amount of time wasted over false clues; but their progress was nevertheless, only slow and doubtful, and about five miles from London they found themselves at last hopelessly at sea.

Easton, wild with impatience and anxiety, was in despair; but Nell at this point, to his companion's surprise, suddenly appeared to relax his efforts and resign himself.

We have lost them, he said. If, indeed, we were ever really on their track. We shall do no good in this way, and are only wasting time. London, driver, he said, turning to the cabman, and don't go too fast.

But we can't give up like this, expostulated Easton quickly. We must try back again. We must do something.

Let me have my way first, said Nell. I have an idea. If I am wrong, we will go back again and search every inch of the road. If I am right, we may do better by going straight to town. We shall see. Do you mind if we pull up at your rooms?

Easton acquiesced, and, entering London, they directed the driver to Victoria Street, where they descended and got rid of their cab.

Don't look round, said Nell, as they crossed the pavement to the doorway of Easton's house. And quickly he led the way to the lift.

If any one asks for Major Easton, say he has just come in, he said to the porter, and getting out of the lift they entered Easton's rooms.

They were no sooner inside than Nell went quickly to the window and, peering a corner of one of the blinds very cautiously looked out into Victoria Street for a minute.

STUDENTS GIFT TO WAR OFFICE

Give Blériot Monoplane, Fitted Complete, for the Use of Army

London, England.—The war office acquired another aeroplane recently—a gift from the International Correspondence Schools, the curriculum of which includes the science of aviation.

This particular machine, a Blériot monoplane fitted with a 50-horsepower Gnome engine, has been driven more than 17,000 miles by Robert Slack, a student of the International Correspondence Schools, who undertook a flying tour of the country, with the object of stirring up enthusiasm for aviation among other students.

A deputation from the schools waited on Colonel Seely at the war office and asked him to accept the monoplane, offered in a spirit of loyalty as a gift to the nation.

I have been puzzled, said Colonel Seely, in accepting the monoplane, to understand the connection between the International Correspondence Schools and the art of flying; but one thing is clear, and that is that the students of the schools are exceptionally alert, alive, farseeing and patriotic.

I have received many deputations in this room, he added, but this one is exceptional, because while other deputations asked for something like this one wants to give me something.

Later, speaking at a luncheon given at the Westminster Palace Hotel to celebrate the presentation, Colonel Seely said:

After all, we want two things in the science of aviation. We want not only the machines; we want the men with the nerve and the courage and the skill and the judgment to fly them. I can assure you that we are not losing sight of the national importance of the science of aviation.

I am not going to anticipate now the statement I shall have to make to parliament of what has been done, but I can say that a very remarkable advance has been made not only in the war office, but outside in the science of aviation.

Strangled With Asthma is the only expression that seems to convey what is endured from an attack of this trouble. The relief from Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy is beyond measure. Where all was suffering there comes comfort and rest. Breathing becomes normal and the bronchial tubes completely cleared. This unequalled remedy is worth many times its price to all who use it.

OUR RIBS, DISAPPEARING

Scientist Says Man of Future Will be Inferior Product

Paris, France.—The man of the future, according to M. A. F. le Double professor of medicine at Tours, will have a large head, fewer teeth and shorter arms than the man of today, and will compare with him unfavorably in stature.

Among the primitive races in Australia, the professor states, it is not uncommon to find natives with thirty-six or even more teeth, but the white man of tomorrow will be lucky if he has twenty-eight. There is a tendency for the first, eleventh and twelfth ribs to disappear, thus leaving nine instead of twelve on either side of the body.

Legs and arms are destined to shrink in length, but the hand, which today shows an immense progress compared with that of our remote ancestors, will continue to progress in the direction of the independence of the fingers. The little toe will become smaller and smaller.

London.—At Birmingham quarter sessions the recorder passed a sentence of twelve months' hard labor and eighteen lashes with the cat on a carter named Frederick Sankey, in connection with a White Slave case.

GOOD NATURED AGAIN

Good Humor Returns With Change to Proper Food

"For many years I was a constant sufferer from indigestion and nervousness, amounting almost to prostration," was a Western man's statement. "My blood was impoverished, the vision was blurred and weak, with moving spots before my eyes. This was a steady daily condition. I grew ill-tempered, and eventually got so nervous I could not keep my books posted, nor handle accounts satisfactorily. I can't describe my sufferings.

"Nothing I ate agreed with me, till one day I happened to notice Grape-Nuts in a grocery store, and bought a package out of curiosity to know what it was.

"I liked the food from the very first, eating it with cream, and now I buy it by the case and use it daily. I soon found that Grape-Nuts food was supplying brain and nerve force as nothing in the drug line ever had done or could do.

"It wasn't long before I was restored to health, comfort and happiness. Through the use of Grape-Nuts food my digestion has been restored, my nerves are steady once more, my eyesight is good again, my mental faculties are clear and acute, and I have become as good-natured as that my friends are truly astonished at the change. I feel younger and better than I have for 20 years. No amount of money would induce me to surrender what I have gained through the use of Grape-Nuts food."

Name given by Canadian Postum Co., Windsor, Ont. "There's a reason." Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

One on Solomon

Perry—Solomon himself admitted that he was puzzled by the way of a man with a maid.

Mrs. Perry—Well, he'd have been more excited over the way of a maid with a new set of dishes.

Reduce cost of Living

Mrs. Youngbride (at the baker's)—The holes in the doughnuts are very large. You ought to make some reduction.

Baker—Can't do that, mum; but I'll give you a cent each for the holes if you'll return 'em.

Now Feels Strong and Vigorous

And Fit for Any Amount of Work as the Result of Using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Mr. J. Huribert.

It is so easy to overlook the warning given by headaches, indigestion, failing memory, lack of power to concentrate the mind, irritability and worry over little things, that many a man does not realize his danger until on the verge of breakdown.

Like the writer of the letter quoted below, you can call a halt to the wasting process and restore vim and energy to the nervous system by using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. This great food cure has a wonderful record of cures.

Mr. J. Huribert, 23 James street, Brantford, Ont., writes:—

"I was very much run down in health and as a consequence my nervous system was very much exhausted. Close confinement at my work, I think, brought on the trouble. I started using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and by the time I had used one box I felt a great improvement. The continued use of this preparation has thoroughly restored my system so that I feel strong and vigorous and fit for any amount of work. I have also used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and Ointment with splendid satisfaction, and recommend them at every opportunity."

Not so much that, but he is making a collection of insects.

Gentlemen.—My daughter, 13 years old, was thrown from a sleigh and injured her elbow so badly it remained stiff and very painful for three years. Four bottles of MINARD'S LINIMENT completely cured her and she has not been troubled for two years.

Yours truly,

St. Joseph, P.O., 18th Aug., 1900.

Paris, France.—A daring and carefully planned robbery took place in Paris, when a messenger employed by the Credit Lyonnais was robbed of $11,140.

The messenger was instructed while on his rounds to call on a lady living in the Rue Dauphine. Her name was stated to have been offered as guarantee to effect a loan from the bank. The messenger was informed by the lady that she knew nothing of the person in question.

He was going downstairs, when two men jumped out from a dark corner of the unlighted staircase and throwing a handful of pepper into his face temporarily blinded him. They then knocked him down and snatching his wallet, dashed downstairs and escaped.

An Impossibility

Dr. Crabbe had almost succeeded in dismissing Mrs. Gassoway, when she stopped in the doorway, exclaiming: Why doctor, you didn't look to see if my tongue was coated.

I know it isn't said the doctor wearily. You never find grass on a race track.

Women's Leap to Death

Paris.—A widow about 60 years of age committed suicide by throwing herself from the first platform of the Eiffel Tower. When she had fallen seventy feet her foot caught in the iron-work of the structure, and the body hung there for over an hour before firemen were able to release it.

Professor Metchnikoff (sneaky name to pronounce, but we are never sure about the spelling), in his latest book asserts that with sour milk and its by-products as the chief articles of diet one may defy time and the undertaker and easily live to 200 years of age or thereabouts.

A friend of ours who has given the Metchnikoff bill of fare a month's trial says that while 200 years of life on earth may sound like an attractive proposition, if he has got to stick to the sour milk dietary as a steady thing he would be perfectly willing to die at the end of the first 100.

HUGE LEGAL FEES TO USELESS COUNSEL

Public in England Molested by Customs That Amount to Scandal

London, England.—The practice of paying junior counsel a fee equal to two-thirds of the amount paid to senior counsel was attacked at the general meeting of the Law Society.

Brinsby Harper said the Law Society should protect the public as well as look after the interests of the profession, and it was time to do away with something which was nothing less than a scandal.

A friend of his had often briefed Sir Henry Hawkins, who never wanted more than 20 guineas and two on the brief, but nowadays leading society K.C.'s were asking extravagant fees. There was no objection to a K.C. getting those fees if the client wanted to brief that K.C., but it was hard that junior counsel should also get two-thirds of the amount which his leader received.

He knew of a case where a junior counsel was not present in court for some days during a trial, but still he had to be paid his 65 guineas per day.

In another case, $500 was to be paid to a leading counsel and the usual proportion to the junior. Both were perfectly satisfied, but subsequently it was decided to brief a well-known K.C.

The K.C. was engaged in a political campaign and was asked those fees if the client wanted to brief that K.C., but it was hard that junior counsel should also get two-thirds of the amount which his leader received.

AFTER EFFECTS OF LONG ILLNESS

SPEEDILY VANISH WHEN YOU USE DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

Loren G. Ladd only found complete relief after using the Great Canadian Kidney Remedy.

Ladd's Mills, Stanstead, Que. (Special).—That the seeds of disease left in the body after an illness are sure to cause trouble is the experience of Loren G. Ladd, a well known young man in this community. Mr. Ladd has also learned that those seeds can be cleared out of the body and perfect health restored by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"At the age of six I had Scarlet Fever," Mr. Ladd states. "At twelve I had Typhoid Fever; and at fourteen I had Measles. About a year later I began to be troubled by swellings of the face, feet and hands. The doctor told me I had kidney trouble. He gave me medicine but the swellings continued to come at intervals of a week to a month.

"Two years ago one box of Dodd's Kidney Pills stopped the swellings. Last winter the swellings returned and again I was cured by using Dodd's Kidney Pills."

Healthy kidneys strain the acids of disease out of the blood. Dodd's Kidney Pills make healthy kidneys.

Ab. Giles, said a curate to an old rustic whom he met on his way to church Sunday morning, how beautiful it is to hear those silver tones pealing out from the belfry!

"Eh? replied Giles, who was deaf. I say how beautiful it is, shouted the curate, to hear those silver tones pealing out from the belfry!"

"I can't hear a word you say, said Giles, then blessed bells be making such a terrible din."

It's perfectly disgraceful! she exclaimed.

What's the matter? enquired her husband.

Here's a description of a woman who gets up in public and declares herself an anarchist.

Well, was the rejoinder, maybe it's just as well. I would like to see women crowd the males out of the anarchist business. When they throw bombs they wouldn't be so likely to hit anybody.

ALFONSO RESOLVED TO BE A POPULAR KING

On Anniversary of His Birth He Grants Amnesty to All Political Offenders

Madrid, Spain.—King Alfonso has given further proof of his broad liberal tendencies and desire to conciliate all political parties by granting on the anniversary of his birth amnesty to all political offenders.

The country has not yet recovered from the surprise caused by the action of King Alfonso in sending for republican politicians in order to ascertain the views of his followers.

In thus breaking down the reactionary traditions of the Spanish court, the king has inaugurated a new political era which may be fraught with great good for the nation. Although ultra-Conservatives, like Senor Mauria, deplore the new departure, the Liberals and Republicans consider it as a victory for themselves.

King Alfonso made it clear to several leaders with whom he talked that in future the leaders of all political parties would have access to the throne. He told Professor Azarte, leader of the Republican-Socialist Union, on January 14 that in the event of future crises, even the anti-monarchists would be consulted, and that eventually posts in the cabinet would be given to Republicans and Socialists.

The effect of King Alfonso's new policy on the astonished Conservatives is shown by the statement of Count Sanches Toca. He said to me:

The reconstruction of the Conservative party is imperative. It would be suicide for us to persist in the present conservative policy. The old reactionary system, with its intrigues, struggles, quarrels and menaces, had had its day.

Other countries have realized this. Look at Great Britain, Germany, France, Italy and Austria. These countries tolerate things today which thirty years ago were prohibited. Their Conservative politicians recognize altered conditions.

The present political situation in Spain signifies the complete defeat of reaction, as represented by Senor Mauria, the late premier. Spain is abandoning her empty quarrels and preparing to deal with modern social and political problems.

A member of the present cabinet said:

So far as I am concerned, the form of government is of secondary consideration. Personally I am a monarchist, but I do not believe in the necessity or the usefulness of the monarchic regime as a principle. The example of Great Britain does not prove that her sovereigns are better than those of other nations, but that her politicians are wiser and more practical than ours.

The religious question in Spain is of secondary importance. The paramount questions are: Educational reforms and economic development of the country. A republic has been installed in Portugal and church and state have been separated, but nevertheless, the economic situation has become worse.

If the monarchists in Spain succeed in settling the economic questions and achieving educational reforms, the Republican party will have no reason for further existence.

ENGLISH VICAR RUNS BIG MARRIAGE AGENCY

Success Grows Scheme Now in Operation for Over One Year

London, England.—The practical effort of the Rev. C. H. Grundy, vicar of St. Peter's, Brockley, S.E., to lessen the loneliness of life by helping suitable couples to meet with a view to matrimony is meeting with a measure of success.

Mr. Grundy's scheme, inaugurated in the early part of last year, was to keep a register containing the names of young women willing to take husbands who possess certain incomes. My agency has done quite as well as I hoped, Mr. Grundy said. Many of the 140 letters I have received came from mere male adventurers; these I promptly weeded out. Applications for wives have come not only from parts of England, but also from California, India, Mexico and Australia.

One of the most pathetic experiences has been the case of vicars' daughters who are living in secluded country vicarages attending to parents who are rapidly growing old and will shortly die leaving their daughters applicants for the many societies whose function it is to keep together the body and soul of those who are grimly spoken of as decayed gentlewomen.

I was very sorry to be unable to solemnize the marriage of my first couple; but a previous engagement prevented me. Here is an extract from a letter I received from the bride in answer to my card of congratulation:

We can never repay you for bringing so much happiness into our lives. We think ours the most romantic marriage on record and we both feel that you were the instrument, under providence, of bringing gas together.

A second wedding has been arranged and we hope in due time to be able to announce it. But there are many couples who are in the stage of an early correspondence which will be followed by interviews. They are maturing. If I may use the term, My idea is not to bring about a large number of haphazard marriages, but by careful selection and opportune advice to guide those who have the needful qualities and suitable temperaments into a happy married life.

Terrier Kills Two Otters

London.—A small wire-haired terrier belonging to Mr. Lawrence, of Streatham, Berks, displayed rare pluck in killing two full-grown otters. The dog received no injury.

Oh, papa, she said, with a blush, young Mr. Chestnut who owns so many coal mines in the Midlands is coming again this evening, and he wants to see you on some important business.

All right, my dear, responded the old man, chucking her playfully under the chin. I know what the young man wants.

That evening Mr. Chestnut came to the point at once.

Mr. Hendricks, he said boldly. I want to ask you if you have laid in your winter stock of coal?

Gigantic Wasps' Nest

London.—Mr. Austen, landlord of the Wheatstee Inn, Nelson street, Ryde, has found a gigantic wasps' nest on his premises. Its shape resembles the lantern of an ordinary street lamp, the circumference being four feet and the depth two feet. It was found in the attic of a lean-to used as a kitchen.

Oh, ma! exclaimed the daughter of the candidate. I just saw papa kissing the cook-lady!

That's all right dear. He's acting as my manager and I want her vote for today's election.

KING VICTOR REVIEWS WAR-SCARRED TROOPS

Regiments Home From Tripoli Get Enthusiastic Reception in Rome

Rome.—Recently King Victor Emmanuel reviewed detachments of the troops which participated in the war against Turkey, and afterward accompanied them on their march through the principal streets of the capital.

The king, who was accompanied by Queen Elena and his children, the Duke d'Aosta and other princes of the house of Savoy, first inspected the troops in the Piazza Indipendenza.

His majesty then placed himself at the head of the column and led his soldiers who were accompanied by the regimental colors, through the Via Nazionale to the enormous new statue of Victor Emmanuel II, called the altar of the Fatherland.

King Victor took up his position beside the statue of his grandfather and presented a medal for each regimental standard. The ceremony was the most imposing of the kind that has been witnessed since Rome became the capital of the kingdom.

The streets were crowded with enthusiastic spectators, who cheered the troops and little Prince Humbert.

LEAP FROM AIRSHIP

Mechanic Jumps Fifty Feet and Escapes Grim Death

Berlin.—While the Schuette-Lanze airship was landing at Mohlsdorf, it was swung by a gust of wind against the roof of a house, on which the rear of the car remained suspended. The wooden frame of the craft snapped and tore the outer cover of the balloon. It is hoped that it will be possible to repair the damage in three or four weeks.

The Schuette-Lanze is a rigid type of airship, which, it is expected, will be bought by the war office. Two army captains were on board at the time of the accident.

A mechanic, who jumped from the airship while it was in the air, broke an arm and a leg, and sustained other severe injuries, is said to have jumped from a height of fifty feet.

DOUBLE MURDER BY BOY

Lad Besieged in Bedroom by Police and Killed

Paris, France.—The Marseilles police shot and killed a desperate criminal recently. He was 16 years old.

Five boys, the oldest of whom was 17, were on their way home from a dance at midnight when two of them quarrelled. Jacques Barale, the younger of the two, drew a revolver and shot his companion dead.

The tragedy happened just outside the house where Barale lived, and before the police arrived he rushed upstairs and shut himself in his bedroom.

Over the door of his room was a fanlight. One of the policemen climbed a pair of steps to see what he could of the room and fell back dead with a bullet in his brain.

Another policeman then climbed up, and through the fanlight shot Barale dead.

The Observer

There is a fever of expectancy about the well shared by the outlying community.

The Calgary Petroleum Products company is known locally as the Heron outfit, and the well is on the Michael Stros homestead, a little over a mile west of Black Diamond, and adjoining lands of A. D.

McPherson, on which are located the coal mines.

For some days this plant has fired the boilers with natural gas of the mineral character, a further indication of the near presence of petroleum.

At the McDougall Sagar well, further up the Turner valley, oil has also been found in a small quantity and experts believe their high hopes will soon be realized.

Landmarks of Typewriter Progress

Such are all the recent developments of the

Remington

(Visible Models 10 and 11)

Among these developments are:

The Built-in Decimal Tabulator—which makes the decimal tabulating mechanism an integral part of the typewriter.

The Tabulator Set Key—which eliminates all hand setting of the tabulator stops.

The Column Selector—which determines, by the stroke of a single key, the exact point on each line where the writing is to begin.

The Adding and Subtracting Remington (Weld Mechanism)—which combines in one typewriter, and in one operation, the functions of the writing machine and the adding machine.

Every one of these new developments is an evidence of the perpetual leadership of the Remington Typewriter. Illustrated booklet descriptive of all recent Remington improvements, sent on request.

Hearnleigh, March 3.—Mrs. Sinclair left on a visit to her daughter, Mrs.
Stein, in Calgary.

Miss Leahy is on a holiday, staying with her sister May who is attending the Normal school in Calgary.

The Berrywater local of the U.F.A., along with other locals are meeting together (through the courtesy of the Vulcan union at Vulcan) to get acquainted and do business.

The officials of this district met on the 12th. The question of highway improvement and maintenance was dealt with and to successfully do this a surveyor will be hired to go into the matter of road making.

According to observation along the base of the Buffalo hills, springs of water bubble and run out from the hillsides around Loma, Union Jack and Hearnleigh. The black soil of the Buffalo hills is worthy of note, which is a great help to mixed farming.

A dry year is the best time to locate a farm. The droughty year of 1910 saw a great deal of land taken up and all that was taken at that time which showed signs of unusual moisture has produced bountiful crops since.

F. Baden, Wm. McGill and Jno.
Robson attended a meeting of Sunny Glen local of the U.F.A., and were delighted to see the interest and progressiveness of the farmers in that vicinity.

Train Blown Over
Berlin.—Heavy snowstorms occurred in many parts of Germany last week and railway traffic is seriously affected. A passenger train traveling from Reichenau to Zittau, Saxony, was blown over by the wind, one of the carriages being burned. There was no loss of life. The railway station at Merzdorf, in Silesia, was practically wrecked by the storm and traffic there is suspended.

DOGS ACT AS POLICE

Special Guardians of the Night Formed in Paris for Protection of Property.

Paris, France.—A series of burglaries in the center of Paris has led to the creation of a special force of private police, or night guards, who begin their duties this week. Their special attentions are directed to guarding the property of citizens who have subscribed toward the Night Guards' Association.

Last night a reporter for a morning newspaper accompanied an inspector on his rounds of the Avenue de l'Opera and the adjacent streets, which are patrolled by a dozen stalwart guards in a blue uniform with a quail helmet. Each guard had a police dog and a heavy automatic pistol. The inspector had with him a magnificent black German shepherd dog, which was muzzled and held on leash. All the dogs, the officer explained, had been specially trained for their work. Just lay a hand on me and see what the dog will do, said a guard. The reporter gave him a hearty blow in the chest. With a low growl the great black dog at his side sprang at the newspaperman's throat. His master pulled him off.

The scheme is in its infancy, but it is hoped before long to establish patrols in the residential districts of Paris. Subscribers may get a guard at night to summon a doctor or a cab.

There is no need to torture him—give Baby's Own Tablets—they do everything castor oil is supposed to do, only they do it better, and what is more the baby will like them. The Tablets are absolutely safe, being guaranteed by a government analyst to contain no opiates or other harmful drugs. What's the Use?

Though he is himself, in private life, a clergyman, George Birmingham, the Irish novelist, loves a good story on the clergy, and one of the most amusing sections in his new book, 'The Lighter Side of Irish Life,' deals with the foibles and misadventures of Irish pastors. One of his tales may be quoted:

A north of Ireland gentleman heard from the lips of a clergyman of the death of an inveterate enemy of his who harassed him for many years.

Well, he said, it's a comfort to think that the devil's got that fellow at last. The clergyman, being a clergyman, felt bound to protest against this uncharitable view of the dead man's condition. He insinuated a hope that, in spite of all that had passed, the poor man might have escaped the extreme penalty.

Well, said the other, if the devil hasn't got that fellow, all I can say is that I don't see much use in our keeping a devil at all.

A Kansas City character was clinging to a lamp-post one Sunday morning when a stranger came along and addressed him.

Sir, enquired the stranger, can you tell me where the Second Presbyterian church is?

Mister, answered the weary one, I don't even know where the First Presbyterian church is.

Artie had tried by various means to interest his father in conversation. Can't you see I'm trying to read? said the exasperated parent. Now, don't bother me.

Artie was silent almost a minute. Then, reflectively: Awful accident on a Bloomfield trolley today.

Father looked up with interest. What's that? he asked. An accident? Yes, replied Artie, edging toward the door, a woman had her eye on a seat and a man sat on it.

Visitor—Was the Christmas mail heavy?
Rural Postmaster—Haven't got it all out yet. I tell you, this town owes its lives to me. About the first of December, all the letters that came in here were covered with funny looking stamps. I got kind of suspicious and it certainly puzzled me till a New York drummer put me wise, telling me they were tuberculosis stamps. Of course, I knew that stuff was darned bad, so I just up and confiscated the mail as fast as it came in. I've got it all out in the back room fumigating now. Pretty narrow squeeze, but I nipped the epidemic right in the bud.

An Irish contractor had the misfortune to run his car over an old man who had a bottle of blueing inside his coat. Jumping from his car and seeing the fluid rapidly staining the old fellow's breast, he turned to his friend, Finnegan, and said: "We've killed an old man with blue-blooded Yankees!"

Paris.—In a duel with swords, M. Liontel took his father's place on account of the great age of the latter, and was wounded in the arm. His adversary was a member of the chamber named M. Lagrosilliere. The son though wounded, refused to give up the fight until it was stopped by the seconds.

Pat was standing near the car track when he noticed an automobile coming up the street, and to be safe he stepped back a little from the car track. The auto went past and just as it was passing the driver had occasion to turn off he track. When he did the auto skidded on the car track causing the back end of it to swing around, striking Pat and knocking him down.

Pat was seen to get up and look after the car and say: Now what do ye think o' that? When ye stand in front o' them, they run over ye; and when ye get out o' the way to let them pass they turn round and kick ye!

WHAT FOLLOWED A CUT

A Magistrate's Wonderful Experience With Zam-Buk

Mr. J. E. Arsenault, a Justice of the Peace, and station master at Wellington, on the Prince Edward Island Ry., has had a wonderful proof of the healing power of Zam-Buk. He says:

"Four years ago I had an accident. I slipped in the station and fell on a freight truck, sustaining a bad cut on the front of my leg. I thought this would heal, but instead of doing so it developed into a bad ulcer and later into a form of eczema which spread very rapidly and also started on the other leg. Both legs became so swollen and sore that I could only go about my work by having them bandaged. My doctor said I must stop work and lay up.

After six months of this trouble I consulted another doctor, but with no better result. I tried all the salves, liniments and lotions I heard of, but instead of getting better I got worse.

"This was my condition when I got my first box of Zam-Buk. Greatly to my delight that first box gave me relief. I continued to apply it to the sores, and day by day they got better. I could see that at last I had got hold of something which would cure me, and in the end it did. It is now over a year since Zam-Buk worked a cure in my case, and there has been no return of the eczema or any trace of it."

Such is the nature of the great cures which Zam-Buk is daily effecting. Purely herbal in composition, this great balm is a sure cure for all skin diseases, cold sores, chapped hands, frost bite, ulcers, blood-poisoning, varicose sores, piles, scalp sores, ringworm, inflamed patches, cuts, burns, and bruises. All druggists and stores sell at 50c. box or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, upon receipt of price.

A story of Scotch honesty comes from Dundee. A small boy had taken the prize for an exceptionally well drawn map. After the examination the teacher, a little doubtfully, asked the lad:

Who helped you with this map, James?

Nobody, sir.

Come, now, tell me the truth. Did not your brother help you?

No, sir, he did it all.

A Boon for the Biliious.—The liver is a very sensitive organ and easily deranged. When this occurs there is undue secretion of bile and the acid liquid flows into the stomach and sours it. It is a most distressing ailment, and many are prone to it. In this condition a man finds the best remedy in Parmelee's Vegetable Pills, which are warranted to speedily correct the disorder. There is no better medicine in the entire list of pill preparations.

There is nothing repulsive in Miller's Worm Powders, and they are as pleasant to take as sugar, so that few children will refuse them. In some cases they cause vomiting through their action in an unclean stomach, but this is only a manifestation of their cleansing power, no indication that they are hurtful. They can be thoroughly depended upon to clear all worms from the system.

Minard's Liniment Cures Burns, Etc.

You haven't got J. Jones Jinks' writing advertisements for you any more, I hear, remarked one business man to another, both good advertisers along different lines.

No, replied the other in a tone of strong disapproval, and I'm glad of it.

What's wrong with him? I understand he had taken a course from a correspondence school and was thoroughly competent.

Was he? And the other man spat as though something tasted bad. Was he? Well, let me tell you something. I had a new brand of tooth brushes and I wanted something extra to exploit them all over, and I told him to go to it good.

Next day in all the papers it showed up large and luminous, and at the bottom there was a line stating out clear which read: If not satisfactory after a week's trial return and get your money back.

Now what do you think of that? Tooth brushes, mind you!

PICTURES SLASHED AT GALLERY

Outrage Committed When Few Visitors Were in That Section of Gallery

London.—An extraordinary outrage was committed at the National Gallery recently, when four valuable oil paintings were damaged, the glass each being smashed and the pictures hacked. The damage is estimated at about $250.

A middle-aged man, giving the name of Ernest Welch, of Salter-road, Parkstone, Dorset, described as a house painter, was arrested in connection with the affair and taken to Vine-street police station and charged with wilfully damaging the four pictures. They are as follows: Mrs. Constable, by Constable; The Gleaners, by Constable; A Castle by a Lake, by Richard Wilson; Hadrian's Villa, by Richard Wilson.

The pictures are each about two feet square and are all situated in room 23 of the National Gallery.

The act was committed about half past three in the afternoon, and very few people were in this section of the gallery at the time. Suddenly the sound of smashing glass was heard, and some of the officials who hurried to the spot state that they saw the man in the act of jabbing the pictures with a two foot rule. The rule was afterwards found to be broken.

Welch, when arrested, had about $35 or $40 in his possession. He said nothing when charged with the act at the police station and seemed somewhat strange in his manner.

The officials of the gallery do not despair of repairing the pictures, although of course the damage is great from an artistic point of view.

Welch, who was somewhat shabbily dressed, entered the gallery with other visitors, no particular attention being paid to him by the gallery officials. The outrage was reported to Sir Charles Holroyd the director of the gallery, who immediately investigated the affair, and the damage done. Lord Balcarras, M.P., who is a trustee of the National Portrait Gallery, expressed the utmost indignation at the news of the outrage at the National Gallery.

STRAIN OF PARIS LIFE URGES WOMAN TO SLAY

Husband Victim of Crime Which Doctors Attribute to Shattered Nerves

Paris, France.—Mme. Lamberjack, the divorced wife of M. Lamberjack, managing director of a motorcar company, was in Paris assize court recently found not guilty of a charge of homicide in connection with her former husband's death. She was released.

M. Lamberjack fell in love with and married Mlle. Virginie Boson when he was a professional racing cyclist and she was an embroiderer at an establishment in the Faubourg St. Honoré. For several years they lived together happily. But M. Lamberjack was ambitious and made his way in the world, till he was earning from $100,000 to $200,000 a year. With material success their happiness came to an end.

Mme. Lamberjack reproached her husband with infidelity. Quarrels became frequent and finally the couple were divorced. Yet they continued to live under the same roof.

In June last year M. Lamberjack decided to remove his share of the furniture. Mme. Lamberjack reproached him and then shot him fatally with a revolver.

In the indictment read in court Mme. Lamberjack was described as of uncertain temper and excessively nervous. Mme. Lamberjack pleaded that she never intended to kill M. Lamberjack, and only fired when she thought he had snatched up his coat as if to get his revolver. When the president of the court asked her if she regretted her act she hid her face in her hands and burst into tears.

Two eminent physicians, who examined her, said she was the victim of Paris life, and its harassing effect on the nerves.

HYPNOTISM RESTORES LOST SKILL TO GOLFER

Specialist in Mental Disorders Explains Its Effect Upon Ordinary Patients

London, England.—The possibility of golfers flocking to Harley street to be cured of a tendency to top their drives or fizzle their mashie shots is opened by the news that after hypnotic treatment at Guy's Hospital a golfer who was off his game returned to the links in splendid form.

He was an amateur plus player who had suddenly gone stale from over concentration on the game, and the method adopted by a Harley street nerve specialist was to instill in the man's mind by suggestion the conviction that he was just as good a player as ever.

Some interesting opinions on the subject were given by Dr. Edwin Ash, the famous specialist in mental disorders.

A game such as golf, he explained, requires a very delicate co-ordination of mind and muscle, which becomes subconscious in the case of a player of any skill. He plays like an automaton, and is at his best when he does not trouble about his game.

Any flow of energy in his conscious mind, such as over anxiety about the result of the match, or the idea that he is going to play badly, has the result of interfering with the working of the subconscious part. It clogs the wheels of the automaton.

Now, there is no doubt that suggestion can remove that interference by removing the particular ideas which have blocked the free running of the automatic impulses which will all go to the proper swinging of a club.

The hypnotic sleep state is not necessary, and in most cases is undesirable. My own method in such cases is to get the patient's mind poised, and then remove by suggestion the idea which is obstructing the subconscious action of the brain.

Students suddenly faced with an examination paper often find their memories almost wiped out by the rush of energy in their conscious brain. The automaton which should reel off dates and figures seems to get a spoke through its driving wheel.

Most people think it more foolish to give than to receive.

FRENCH TOWN EXCITED

Woman Assert That Statue of Virgin in Cemetery Came to Life

Paris, France.—The town of Bessiers is immensely excited by a remarkable story, which is said to have occurred in the old cemetery in the town recently. Nothing will convince the superstitious people that it is not true.

According to the story, which is printed with much detail, a woman was leaving the cemetery, where she had gone to pray at the grave of her husband, when she noticed a statue of the Virgin covered with moss. The condition of the statue inspired her with pity and she tried to wash the moss from it with her pocket handkerchief. She declares that the statue came to life; that one of its hands touched the handkerchief, and that a voice said: This cloth is sacred now. Keep it, for I have blessed it to thank you for your act of piety.

The woman ran home to her cottage and told her sick daughter what had happened. She put the handkerchief on the girl's bed, and the child, who has been paralyzed for several years, sat up, got out of bed and walked.

The statue is surrounded all day by cripples, blind men and women, and even children who are suffering from some disease. It was reported among the townspeople that a blind man recovered his sight and that a lame man had thrown away his crutches and walked.

A number of unbelievers visited the cemetery and openly expressed their scepticism. They were roughly handled by the worshippers and ejected.

A number of women have organized a perpetual guard round the statue, and one of them collected money from visitors whose handkerchiefs she rubbed on the hands of the statue. This was forbidden by the police, whereupon several gendarmes were attacked by the angry women. The leader of the women who tried to induce her companions to precipitate a riot is now forbidden to enter the cemetery.

The bishop and clergy have thus far refrained from expressing any opinion regarding the alleged miracle.

Expelled for Kissing

Munch.—Great indignation has been caused by the action of the authorities in censoring dancing at the carnival balls, which were being held last week. Four policemen who were stationed in the dancing pavilions during the most important ball of the series frequently interfered with couples on the floor and arrested several of them for alleged improper dancing. Other guests were ejected from the hall because they kissed each other in public.

Sometimes a married woman gets so hungry for a loving word that she talks to herself.

DEFY THE GOVERNMENT

SUFFRAGISTS GLORY IN LOSS TO CHANCELLOR OF EXCHEQUER

A Bomb Explosion Wrecks the New Residence of David Lloyd George at Walton-Suffragists. Accept the Responsibility for the Outrage—Will be Martyrs.

London.—The explosion of a bomb partially wrecked a country residence in course of construction for Chancellor of the Exchequer, David Lloyd George at Walton Heath, near London. The only clues obtained by the police are two broken hat-pins which were found among the wreckage. It is declared by the neighborhood that an automobile containing several women passed through the village in the early hours. No one was injured by the explosion. The house was not yet occupied. The bomb had been placed in a room of the residence which adjoins the golf links on which Lloyd George plays. The infernal machine was so powerful that the thick walls of the house were split in all directions and most of the rooms were wrecked. Two seven-pound cans of black powder also had been placed in two separate rooms, among heaps of wood shavings which had been saturated with oil and in the centre of which burning candles had been fixed.

An official of the Woman's Social and Political Union told the police that the society had no knowledge of the perpetrators. General Mrs. Drummond, however, declared that the explosion was undoubtedly done by women. She exclaimed enthusiastically: I think it is grand. It was a fine act, successfully carried out and shows the determination of the women. I say: All power to all kinds of militants in the direction of harassing cabinet ministers, short of taking human life. This is the second time within a year that violent methods have been used against the residences of cabinet ministers, the first being an attempt to burn the house of Lewis Harcourt, Secretary for the Colonies, at Nuneham.

Cardiff, Wales.—We have blown up the chancellor of the exchequer's house said Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, addressing an enthusiastic meeting of suffragettes here. The authorities need not look for the women who actually did it. I personally accept full responsibility for it.

Mrs. Pankhurst declared that if she were sent to penal servitude she would go on a hunger strike.

The government will then either have to set me free, she added, or let me die. If I drop out a hundred women are ready to take my place.

Inter-Switching Order Delayed

Ottawa.—Consideration of the railway board's draft order in regard to inter-switching rates has been postponed by the board until some future date to allow the railways and shippers to get together to consider the new draft order, which they have not had an opportunity to consider.

The proposed order provides that when a shipper sending a car over the line of one railway wished delivery at the terminals of another, the latter road, known as the short haul carrier, should perform such service for a charge, which, unless mutually agreed on by the carriers for private sidings, shall be one cent per hundred pounds with a minimum charge of $3 for each loaded car; and for public line track, one-half cent per 100 pounds with a minimum charge of $5 for each carload. The former order did not specify team track delivery and the chief point of objection taken by the railways to the new one is that it does.

Asserts He Has Sure Cure for Tuberculosis

Plymouth, England.—Dr. Friedrich Friedmann, who asserts he has discovered a cure for tuberculosis, gave an interview on board the Kron Prinzessin Cecilie, on his way to America to demonstrate the value of his remedy. He said:

I feel that the first step I should take in the United States should be to treat cases of visible tuberculosis in the presence of American physicians. I could thereby accomplish the double purpose of instructing them and proving the efficacy of the use of live germs. What I mean by visible tuberculosis is fungi in the knee, for instance, which are visible to the eye. I shall be glad if any doctor or important institution in the United States will give me a chance to treat such cases.

Be Prepared to learn

London.—The Times has a letter from the Women's Christian Association of Saskatoon, pointing out in reply to a recent appeal for educated women immigrants to go west, that they must go with an open mind and be prepared to learn. The Bishop of Winchester's recent appeal seemed to show a condescending attitude towards western Canada. The present writers state that Canada is not an irreligious and uncivilized country, but is striving earnestly to attain the highest ideals.

See Line to Operate Through Cardston

Cardston, Alta.—The announcement of the coming of the Soo Line to Cardston in the near future is acting as a decided stimulus to local business conditions, and real estate men are preparing for an active spring market. The Soo Line has had six locating crews in the field for months past, those now having worked far west into Montana where an enormous territory will be opened up for direct connection with the Twin Cities. It is the intention to strike the Crow's Nest Line of the Canadian Pacific near Burma, Alberta. This means that the new line will enter Alberta at a point nine miles west of Coquit, whence it will run directly to Cardston.

U.S. and France

Washington.—The senate ratified a supplementary treaty with France, extending to 1908 the operation of the present arbitration treaty between that nation and the U.S. A general treaty with foreign nations, covering sanitary regulations for the handling of epidemics, such as plague, yellow fever and cholera, was also ratified.

TWELVE NEW ELEVATORS

Will be Built by Grain Growers Grain Company

Winnipeg.—The Grain Growers Grain Company is contemplating erection of twelve grain elevators during the year.

These elevators, it is understood, will be required in addition to those leased from the provincial government, the demand on which has been so great that further elevators are essential.

Special binning privileges in these elevators are said to have given the farmers the benefit of track prices for car loads lots in elevators, and the line companies realizing that farmers are in position to ship their own wheat in order to secure their share, immediately had to offer track prices less than the ordinary charges to secure trade.

Warn Canadians Against Going to Argentina

Winnipeg.—Canadians who go to the Argentine Republic to take up land or homestead do so at great risk. Nothing but disaster has overtaken those who have gone there.

This was the statement of Canadian Immigration Commissioner Bruce Walker in calling attention to a warning issued by the Dominion government against emigration there.

The action of the government, explained Mr. Walker arises from the fact that Canadians who have gone to the Argentine have been reduced to penury, and the Canadian government has been obliged to bring them back at its own expense. Because it will no longer do so, the warning is issued.

The latest case is that of John Olenik, who went from near Red Deer, Alta. He was defrauded in the Argentine of every cent he had, and the Canadian authorities had to bring him back.

Industrial Accidents

Ottawa.—There were 491 industrial accidents recorded by the department of labor during January, of them 100 were fatal and 391 received serious injuries. Compared with the record for December the above is an increase of three fatal and 24 non-fatal accidents.

Figures for January, 1912 were 103 fatal and 531 non-fatal. The greatest number of fatalities were recorded under the headings of mining and railway service, there being 15 workmen killed in the mining industry and 43 in railway service. Of the non-fatal accidents the greatest number occurred in the steam railway service and the metal trades, the figures having respectively 114 and 87. Two fatal and 28 non-fatal accidents occurred to workmen in the building trades.

Profit in Cherries

Elko, B.C.—Cherries, according to J. T. Bealy, owner of a commercial orchard on Kootenay Lake, are coming to be the most profitable product of the fruit growing industry, although involving possibly the most labor.

Mr. Bealy's cherry orchards show a gross production of from $1,200 to $1,500 per acre. He states that one tree on his ranch has given an average of $70 worth of fruit every year for several years, and that $25 is a fair average for the entire acreage. After the first four years merely ordinary care is required, with a little spraying and trimming. Apples, he says, give an average return of $250 per acre gross. Mr. Bealy purchased his ranch of 25 acres about six years ago, and has made a marked success from the start.

G.T.P. Entrance to Swift Current

Swift Current, Sask.—It is learned from reliable sources that the recent decision of the Grand Trunk Pacific to divert its Moose Jaw line into Swift Current was influenced largely by the wish of the officials to start work on the Swift Current terminals at an early date, and to avoid the inconvenience and expense of bringing the necessary materials over the C.P.R. Although the construction from Watrous will go right ahead, it is calculated that according to the new plans the steel can be laid into Swift Current at least twelve months ahead of the other line, after which it will be possible to work both ways. The present expectation is that the G.T.P. will be in Swift Current by the end of this year.

GRAIN GROWERS CO. GOES IN FOR LUMBERING

Winnipeg Concern Purchases Timber Limits Near Fort George B.C.

Winnipeg.—A transaction that promises to have very far reaching effects was consummated a few days ago, whereby the Grain Growers' Grain Company purchased timber limits near Fort George, B.C., comprising about 300,000,000 feet of lumber, at a price about $1.50 per thousand feet. It is said to be the intention of the grain growers to hold this as a reserve supply with the idea of establishing lumber yards at different points in the province for the purpose of supplying farmers and settlers with lumber at reasonable prices.

British Naval League Extends Thanks to Canada

London.—At a meeting of the Navy League a resolution was passed cordially congratulating the Canadian government and the Malay States for their public spirited contributions to the empire's needs and thanking the peoples of both countries for their loyalty.

The league regretted the failure of the admiralty to fulfill its expressed intention of maintaining the sixty per cent margin of superiority over Germany and called upon the government to secure the laying down of six ships this year over and above those granted by the dominions.

Regrets U.S. Bill

Rome.—There has been considerable press comment here on the subject of the Burnett-Dillingham immigration bill, the clauses of which caused a painful impression. The Italian D'Italia referred to the proposed legislation as an offence to human brotherhood. It added that American citizens would have been the first to regret the passage of the bill, owing to its consequences on the labor market in the United States.

PRESIDENT IS EXILED

HEURTA ELECTED PROVISIONAL PRESIDENT OF MEXICO

Gustavo Madero, Brother of the Deposed President, was Executed, the Barbarous Act being Ordered by Diaz Under Shelter of the Fugitive Law—Madero Escorted from Mexico City of Mexico—General Huerta was elected provisional President by Congress at a special secret session.

Francisco Madero, deposed from the Presidency, will be exiled. Arrangements have been made for his departure from the capital for Vera Cruz. From there he will sail for some European port. Madero will be accompanied by his wife and perhaps by his father and other members of his family.

His loyal aide, Captain Montes, also will go, but in the capacity of a guard. The party will proceed to Vera Cruz under escort.

The execution of Gustavo Madero, brother of the deposed President, was a most tragic occurrence. He was subjected to the fugitive law, and was shot to death by his guards.

The members of the cabinet and most of the other prisoners were released. Francisco Madero, Jose Suarez, Vice-President, and Frederico Garza, governor of the federal district, were the only prisoners held.

General Huerta, who has assumed the post of Governor General and General Diaz had an extended conference, after which it was announced that they were in complete accord. Later General Huerta was in conference with the American Ambassador, Henry Wilson.

Already forced to face plots, the new administration caused the arrest of General Francisco Romero.

Romero is accused of complicity with Francisco Cosío Roblo in a new revolt. The plot involves a group of rurales.

Ottawa.—The Department of External Affairs was officially informed that there had been a change of Government in Mexico, and that all the Canadians in the country were safe. There had been many enquiries from friends and relatives in Canada as to the latter.

January Labor Index

Ottawa.—The department of labor index of wholesale prices was slightly lower in January, standing at 136.2 as compared with 136.8 in December. Grains and fodders, dairy products, fruit and vegetables were lower, while animals and meats and fresh fish were upward. Winter wheat and barley were also upward. Hog products were easier. Iron and products of iron showed some advances.

Compared with January 1912, for which the index number was 133.2, a rise of 3 points is shown. The chief increases appear in the groups, animals and meats, fish, hides, leathers, boots and shoes, textiles, furs, metal and fuel with decreases in grains and fodder, dairy products, fruits, and vegetables.

The index numbers are percentages of the averages during the decade 1899-1909. They are based on 202 commodities representative of Canadian production and consumption.

In retail prices the feature of the month was the easier market for dairy products, eggs declining in many cities, and butter much easier, while milk declined in two cities. Some other lines of food were lower also. A year ago at this time meats, dairy products and potatoes were strongly upward.

German Repeals Anti-Jewish Law

Berlin.—The Reichstag adopted by a majority made up of clericals, socialists, and three radicals, the measure repealing the anti-Jewish law. It is considered most improbable that the Bundrath will concur with the Reichstag in its action.

London.—Marylebone guardians have under consideration a proposal that a Band of Hope shall be established among the workhouse inmates for the encouragement of temperance.

STATISTICS ABOUT CANADIAN PHONES

Annual Report Submitted at Ottawa Shows 683 Companies at End of Year

Ottawa.—Facts about telephone companies in Canada are set forth in the annual report of the subject by the controller of statistics, tabled in the commons. The number at the end of the year was 683, an increase of 146.

In Manitoba and Alberta the systems are owned by the provinces, while Saskatchewan is fast absorbing them. Ontario has 369 telephone companies; Quebec 52; New Brunswick, 17; Nova Scotia, 12; Alberta 3; Saskatchewan, 20; Manitoba, 3; British Columbia, 10; and Prince Edward Island, 3. The aggregate capital is $46,276,851, an increase of $6,232,869 over last year. The capital is equal to $124.75 per telephone.

The cost of real property is placed at $56,887,795. Quebec heading the list with $27,480,159. This is due particularly to the Bell Telephone Company being credited to Quebec, the head office being in Montreal, though its lines are all over the country.

Gross earnings of all companies in the year were $12,274,620; operating expenses $9,094,688 and net earnings $3,179,932. The operating expenses were 74 per cent of the gross.

A total of 370,884 telephones are in use in Canada, equal to one telephone for every eight of population. Employees number 12,873 and salaries last year totalled $5,659,641.

Record Immigration Party

Winnipeg.—Six hundred and twenty five passengers from the Empress of Britain arrived in Winnipeg recently. This is not only by far the largest party which has entered the country since the days of 1913, but it also outnumbers any one party that has found its way into Canada so early in the year, since the immigration movement into the country first commenced.

In fact, it is a record. These new arrivals include a number of first class farm hands, who have come out here prepared to start work on the land, directly the season opens. Ninety-five per cent. are Britisheers.

THE MARKET REPORT

Weekly Grain Letter Supplied by Thompson, Sons & Co., Grain Merchants, Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, Feb. 18.—Trading during the week leaves prices a turn lower with the undertone steady. In the earlier part of the week there was considerable weakness due to favorable weather over the United States and winter wheat belt, rains in India and poor export demand. Later there was reaction on sugar cables and reports that weather was too dry in Kansas and Missouri. It is a little premature to talk of dry weather in these parts but it is getting on to the time when reports of this kind will be looked for by wheat traders and will have their effect on the markets.

The Modern Miller in their latest crop review says the greatest part of the winter wheat belt is in excellent condition but there are farmers who claim damage to the wheat by the absence of snow during the hard frosts and in some dry sections the plant is not looking healthy. The wheat sections of the Northwestern Pacific States have received heavy snowfalls, amply protecting the crop against severe weather. Foreign crop news continue mainly favorable. The crop in India is expected to be a normal one as lately there has been splendid rains where moisture was needed. Speaking generally the wheat situation remains dull and featureless and is apparently waiting for something to develop to get itself out of the present rut. It is pleasing to note however that Europe continues to absorb the increasing world's shipments without apparent effort or effect on prices. There is a question in the minds of some whether this buying is for actual needs or is the laying in of stocks on a chance that there will be further political disturbances in the coming spring. A traveler recently returned from an extended trip in Europe, including the countries as far east as Roumania, states that many people with whom he talked are decidedly fearful of general war in Europe this spring or the coming summer. In such an event European crop production would be curtailed and while this fear may not be realized it hangs as a damper on bearish activities and prevents sudden declines like there has been in the past under similar commercial conditions. The week's statistics are bearish although the world's shipments are not as large as expected. The Canadian visible supply this week shows an increase 336,738 bushels, making the total now 24,188,517 bushels against 23,079,718 bushels a year ago. The United States visible decreased 406,000 bushels, last week it increased 77,000 bushels, last year it decreased 1,380,000 bushels. The total is now 64,584,000 bushels compared to 58,436,000 bushels a year ago. The visible supply of wheat in Europe amounts to 80,240,000 bushels against 79,592,000 bushels last week, thus showing an increase of 648,000 bushels. Last year there was an increase of 300,000 bushels when the total amounted to 76,000,000 bushels. The world's visible supply according to Bradstreet's only decreased 205,000 bushels compared to a decrease last year of 776,000 bushels. The total world's visible is now 202,714,000 bushels against 190,157,000 bushels last year. World's shipments for the week were 12,944,000 bushels as against 14,800,000 bushels last week and 8,720,000 bushels last year, and in detail are as follows:

Table with 3 columns: Country, This Week, Last Week. Rows include America, Russia, Danube, Argentine, India, Australia, Austria-Hungary, and Chili & N. Africa.

Total Bk. 12,944,000 14,800,000

The Winnipeg market for the most part has been stronger than the other markets although trading in futures has closely followed the fluctuations in the United States markets. Futures have closed a shade lower for the week but cash prices show a slight advance. Even should futures stand still, cash prices will advance as the opening of navigation approaches and buyers have the less storage to pay. Receipts during the last few days have been on the increase and what has been offered for sale has found ready buyers. To-day's cash prices are: 1 Northern, 84½¢; 2 Northern, 81½¢; 3 Northern, 78½¢; No. 4 73½¢; No. 5, 68½¢; No. 6, 63¢; Feed, 53¢; 1 Alberta Red Winter, 85½¢; 2 A.R.W., 82½¢; 3 A.R.W., 79½¢; Futures closed May, 88¢; July, 89½¢.

Oats.—Receipts continue liberal and while the market has been quiet values are ¼¢ to ½¢ higher. Today's closing prices are: No. 2 C.W. oats, 33¢; C.W., 30½¢; extra 1 feed, 32¢; 1 feed, 30½¢; 2 feed, 27½¢. Futures closed May, 36¢; July, 36½¢.

Barley.—The demand for barley is moderate, the higher grades are unchanged, but the feed grades are ¼¢ lower. To-day's prices are: No. 3, 47½¢; No. 4, 45½¢; Rejected, 40¢; Feed, 29¢.

Flax.—Early in the week prices were considerably lower but there has been some recovery during the last two days. To-day's closing values are: 1 N.W.C., 114½¢; 2 C.W., 111½¢; Futures closed May, 118½¢; July, 119½¢.

All prices quoted above are for in store Port William, Port Arthur and Duluth.

Panama Canal

London.—At a meeting of the Royal Statistical Society, Prof. Lincoln Hutchinson read a paper on The Panama Canal and Competition for Trade. He said that in countries which would be served by the canal trade has been more and more concentrated in the hands of Great Britain, the United States and Germany.

The widespread knowledge of the excellence of British goods, the reputation of British traders for square dealing, the supremacy of the British mercantile marine and other factors, he said had evaporated strongly in favor of Great Britain. This strength however had led to certain weakness to a conservatism of method and to over confidence in the inevitability of continued success.

On the whole, the German and American attack upon the markets which would be served by the canal had met with some success. The fact that the United States in spite of serious handicaps, had more than held its own in competition, pointed to an important advance. When the canal is in full operation it was self-evident that America will unquestionably derive greater benefits therefrom in the increased accessibility of the markets than any European country.

Scott Subscriptions Slow

London.—J. M. Barrie appeals through the newspapers for a better response for the subscription to pay the outstanding liabilities incurred by Captain Scott in his polar expedition.

Mr. Barrie asserts that Lord Curzon's estimate of $150,000 as necessary to pay Captain Scott's obligations is incorrect and that sixty thousand dollars will cover them. The slowness of the public subscription, Mr. Barrie believes is due to the fact that the people are awaiting to see what action the government may take.

Honor Titanic Here

Washington.—President Taft will present to Captain Rostron on the afternoon of March 1st at the White House, the gold Congressional medal awarded him for his heroic services as commander of the Cunard liner "Carpathia" in saving the survivors of the Titanic.

Is Allowed In

New York.—Edward F. Mylius, the English journalist convicted of libeling King George V. of England, and detained by the immigration authorities at Ellis Island received permission from Federal Judge Cox to enter the United States. Judge Cox sustained a writ of habeas corpus.

PRINCE ALBERT, WHO HAS JUST STARTED ON FIRST CRUISE

Prince Albert, the king of England's second son, embarked recently, with sixty-five other naval cadets, in the cruiser Cumberland for the Canary Islands and a three month's cruise in the West Indies, to be followed by about two months in the Mediterranean.

Prince Albert, who was born in 1895, entered the Naval College at Osborne, exactly four years ago. He remained there two years, afterward completing two more years' training at Dartmouth.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL

LESSON IX.—FIRST QUARTER FOR MARCH 2, 1913

Text of the Lesson, Gen. xv., 5-18. Memory Verses, 5, 6—Golden Text, Heb. x. 23—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

We cannot think of omitting the first verse of this chapter, with its first fear not and word of the Lord, and shield and reward, truly a most wonderful verse. This is another visit of the Lord to Abram for in verse 2 we see Abram talking to Him. After the great victory over the four kings no doubt the devil suggested to Abram that they would rather fight their battles and make trouble for him; hence the Lord's Fear not; I am thy shield.

The devil would not be slow to tell him how foolish he had been in turning his back upon the goods of Sodom, therefore the Lord's: I am thy exceeding great reward. It is our privilege to find our all in God and to remember Ps. lxxxiv. 11. Abram seems to waver concerning the promised seed and to think that Eliezer might be his heir, but the Lord assured him that his own child would be his heir and directing him to look up at the stars, said: So shall thy seed be (verse 5). Then we have for the first time two other words: believed, and righteousness (verse 6), and this verse is repeated three times in the New Testament (Rom. iv. 3; Gal. iii. 6; Jas. ii. 23). The righteousness necessary to enable us to stand before God has been provided by Him in Christ, and nothing short of that perfect righteousness will answer. It becomes ours when we say amen to God and heartily accept that which He has provided, but many prefer their own way, as Cain did, like those described in Rom. x. 3, 4.

This verse 6 in our lesson is literally: Abram believed Jehovah, and this should be our attitude to God always—perfect accord with Him. See the comment in Rom. iv. 1-12, and note carefully that the only way is by faith without any works of ours.

The works come afterward as an evidence of our faith, but both in salvation and in service the Lord does all for it is God who worketh, and the principle holds at all times and in all things. Except the Lord build the house, they labor in vain that build it (Ps. cxviii. 1).

In answer to Abram's question, Lord God, whereby shall I know? (verse 8), which sounds like anything but faith after he had been so plainly told, he is directed to a representation of all sacrifice (verse 9). All true sacrifice from Gen. iii. 21, onward points to the great sacrifice of the Son of God on Golgotha, and it is because of that God does all things for us. Sin must be dealt with, and God dealt with sin on the cross, and not having spared His own Son, He now gives us in Him all things freely (Rom. viii. 32).

From the statement in verse 11 concerning Abram keeping the birds away from the sacrifice we are led to think of Matt. xiii. 4-9, where the fowls represent the wicked one. He hates the sacrifice of Christ and will do his utmost to keep us from trusting in it by benefiting by it. We must persistently resist him that he may flee from us (Jas. iv. 7). How can we know our sins are forgiven or that we shall inherit the kingdom and the glory? Let your heart reply because the Son of God loved me and gave Himself for me. (Gal. ii. 20), and I put all my trust in His great sacrifice for my sins and heartily receive Him as my Saviour.

Abram was told that his descendants would be afflicted in a strange land for 400 years and then delivered (verses 13, 14). See the literal fulfillment of this in Ex. xii. 40, 41, and compare another literal fulfillment of a prediction in Kings xii. 2; 11 Kings, xlii. 15-17.

Abram's posterity had to wait till the iniquity of the Amorites became full (verse 16), and the reason why the Lord Jesus does not return to set up His kingdom of peace and righteousness on this earth is because the world is not yet bad enough. Iniquity must come to a head in the person of the antichrist. The smoking furnace and the burning lamp of verse 17 suggest the presence of the Lord with them in their afflictions. In all their affliction He was afflicted, and the angel of His presence saved them.

Chapter xvi tells of Sarai's suggestion, which was not of God, but to which Abram listened, and consequently had no new revelation from God for thirteen years. Compare xvi. 16, and xvil. 1. Yet here we have the first angel story in the Bible, the name of the first man who was mentioned by name before he was born, the beautiful and comforting words, Thou God seest me, and the name given to the well, the well of Him that liveth and seeth me.

The sin of man always seems to make more manifest the grace of God. In chapter xvil. 1, we find God revealing Himself to Abram as El-shaddai, the Almighty God, the Mighty God, who is all sufficient, and the exhortation to walk before God and be sincere.

In xvil. 5, Abram's name is changed to Abraham, Jehovah putting the principal letter of his own name in Abram's name. Sarai's name is also changed to Sarah, and Isaac is mentioned by name before his birth (xvil. 15-19). Circumcision is given as a seal of the faith which Abram had, yet being uncircumcised.

Women Ask Right to Homestead as The Men do Now

Ottawa.—The Minister of the Interior is being overwhelmed with petitions, resolutions, and letters from all kinds of women's organizations in the west ranging from suffragettes to mothers' clubs, asking that women be given the right to take up homesteads on the same basis as men. The requests of the women are also backed up by the boards of trade in some localities. Owing to the pressure of business it is doubtful if anything will be done in this regard this session.

Prince Albert, Sask.—Elaborate preparations are being gotten under way for the entertainment of delegates for the Saskatchewan Association of Rural Municipalties which meets here March 5, 6, and 7.
